Taxable Year(s): 12/15, 12/16, and 12/17

Our examination of the tax return for the above period(s) resulted in no change in your tax liability.

The policy of this department is not to reopen an examination once it has been completed. However, if we receive new information having a material effect on your tax liability, a reopening of the examination may occur. For example, if the Internal Revenue Service issues an audit report showing adjustments, which are also applicable to your state return, we would reopen the examination.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.
